Basketball Tourney Here For Next Week

Comanche's first Girls' Basketball Tourney will be here next week, beginning January 5 and continuing through Saturday, January 14.

Leta Andrews, tournament director, has lined up several teams, including Plains, who is undefeated in year and are rated No. 1 in the state.

Teams entering are Brady, Plains, Coleman, Stebbins, Priddy, Dublin, Gusman and Comanche.

Tournament play begins at 8:30 Thursday night with an opening round of the semifinals.

County Schools Resume Classes Tuesday, Jan. 3

Back to school for Comanche County students Tuesday, January 3, as the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

The students are preparing for six weeks' tests, schooling will be held to the minimum, however there are basketball games scheduled.

The girls' team and the team travel to Goldthwaite Tuesday night to play.

Beginning on Thursday, Comanche High School will host a girls' tourney.

Comanche Indians will play Coleman Friday night in "A" and "B" games.

Key to Preach Local Church

James J. Bailey, senior pastor at Austin Presbyterian Church, will be the guest pastor at the Presbyterian Church, on January 1.

He is a graduate of Austin University and was a vice president and general manager of the Time Corporation before being awarded the Silver Star, the Air Medal and Presidential Citation.

Economy Looks Good For 1967

The national economy is expected to remain healthy during 1967 but growth potential will be closer to the long-range average, says John McManey, extension economist at A&M University.

McManey emphasizes that the rate of increase in economic activity during the year ahead will be a great deal upon the impact on other government programs and on business.

Defense spending is expected to be further restricted, but action may be necessary to combat inflationary measures. If developments in a reduction in defense spending are expected that government programs will be increased to ease the economic adjustments.

The economist sees no let-up in spending by state and local governments. The increase in the rate of growth rate of the past five years.

Most Business Houses to Close Monday, Jan. 2

Most firms in Comanche will be closed Monday, January 2 to celebrate the new year.

Service stations, some grocery stores and cafes will remain open as usual.

The Post Office will be closed, and no mail will be delivered in the city or on the rural routes.

Preacher From India Bringing Messages Here

Rev. Ethel Masters, Methodist minister from Juarat, India, will continue his talks at the First Methodist Church on Thursday, Friday and Sunday.

Rev. Masters began his lectures last Tuesday.

His audiences have found his talks most informative, relating to the trials and tribulations of the Christian religion in India, where 98% of the people are non-Christian.

Rev. Robert Haynes, pastor of the local church, and church members, invite all persons of the area to come hear this outstanding speaker.

The talks begin at 7 each evening.

On Christmas Leave

Pfc. Robert Haggard was home on leave for the Christmas holidays. He returned to duty at Key West, Florida Tuesday, December 27.

and a Combat Infantryman's Badge during seven years in the army. He attained the rank of major.

Bailey was a student minister on Galveston Island during the summer of 1965 and was in clinical training at Austin State Hospital in the summer of 1966.

He and his wife, the former Gail Sandberg of Gadsden, Alabama, have three children. He is a member of the Lakeview Presbyterian Church at New Orleans, La.

The Comanche Chief Says ! Local History Is Featured At Comanche Public Library

By Mrs. Joe Waring
Along with the Nannie Greene Little Scrapbooks, the Comanche Public Library is pleased to have a number of less voluminous but valuable gifts which have come to its local history section from its friends. Xerox copies of pioneer recollections and some special other books have been mentioned in previous Library Line articles.

If personal opinion may be expressed, it seems to me that every person interested in Comanche County owes a debt of gratitude to Billy Bob Lightfoot, formerly of De Leon, for his vast research and work on his thesis, "The History of Comanche County to 1920" presented to the University of Texas in 1949. The manuscript has good organization, is well written, and Lightfoot secured some valuable interviews with older citizens while these could still be obtained. His bibliography has furnished an excellent background in the search for additional material.

Some good information available to Lightfoot at the time he was working was open back files of local newspapers. Although the Little Collection contains many clippings, valuable sources all, the library hopes eventually to secure microfilm copies of all back Comanche newspapers still extant. Research is complete on the location of these although it will never be possible to reconstruct a complete set. A fund is growing slowly which will be used to purchase the necessary microfilm reader. However, even after the machine is secured, funds will be needed to pay filming costs and purchase some film which is already available.

Recent technological developments have made microfilming the best means of preserving back newspaper and magazine files, lengthy out-of-print books, census records, and other bulky or fragile source materials. The best part of this is the small amount of storage space needed and reasonable cost. For example, the complete census records for Comanche County between 1880 and 1890 which give information such as family heads, the children's names, addresses, occupation, property held, etc. would occupy less than 1 square foot and cost only $28. Records after 1890, which might still be considered personal information by some persons, are not open to the public now. Also needed by the library are clear photographs of early buildings, special events, long-time residents, and pioneer citizens. These can be sorted, indexed, dated, properly identified, and made available for public use by researchers. Any funds earmarked for local history use above the current need for the Little Collection binding and storage case will be used to add other Comanche materials. The Library is grateful to the persons who have already responded to this need.

Some additions to the Comanche Collection not previously mentioned include a variety of gifts. A most informative source which was presented several years ago by Mrs. Carrie Holmes Cunningham is her Genealogy of the Holmes Family. Mrs. Cunningham, who was postmistress at Newburg in 1899, has included considerable information on other early families from the south part of the county along with her own relatives.

From Eula Slider's estate, the gift of her children, came several most desirable items of local interest. Mrs. Slider had a complete set of Garden Club Yearbooks beginning with the first in 1937. Study Club Yearbooks from Comanche's earliest woman's club were given beginning with the original issue from 1911 through 1927. Also received were copies of the Arrowhead for 1912-1915. The library also has Arrowheads for 1919, 1926, 1927, 1946, and 1947, and hopes to add missing issues through the generosity of its friends. Xerox copies of these can not be used since photographs do not reproduce well with this method.

Mr. James Day, Archives Director of the State Library, sent a Xerox copy of Wilson Straley's "Paragraphs from a Collector's Notebook", a pamphlet written in 1908 on artifact and arrowhead hunting in this county.

The gift of Mrs. M. V. Blanton, Judy Wilkerson's mother, was the Texas Archeological Society Bulletin containing an article published in 1965 describing the artifacts uncovered in the excavations for the Proctor Dam.

Other additions to the local history section of the library will appear in a future column. Materials from this collection are always available at the library since they are maintained on a reserve basis. The library is open four half days each week. If you have material of special interest in this field which you wish to share, please visit the library, or call Mrs. Joe Waring after January 1.

INDIANS FACE JACKSBORO

The CHS Indians will face Jacksboro at 8:00 Friday morning in the Howard Payne Tournament.

Ben Franklin Stores Planning 90th Anniversary

Len Bonick announced today that more than 2,400 Ben Franklin stores, located in each of the 50 states, plan to stage a year-long celebration during 1967 commemorating the 90th Anniversary of the founders of Ben Franklin stores.

Highlighting the 90th birthday event will be the promotion of 52 key values, one to be featured each week throughout the year at a very low price. Announcement of these special values will be made in this paper throughout the coming year.

Bonick also explained that the local Ben Franklin store is participating in a 90th Anniversary nationwide sweepstakes being sponsored by all Ben Franklin stores. Nine "Pick-Your-Trip" prizes will be awarded to nine lucky couples. First prize will be a two-week, all-expense trip for two to anywhere in the world, plus eight second prizes of all-expense trips for two to anywhere in the Continental United States. Winners will be announced in early November of 1967.

"The merchandise division of our Ben Franklin headquarters has come up with some outstanding merchandise values to be offered each week during 1967," Bonick announced. "These weekly low-priced values are our way of thanking Comanche's shoppers for past patronage and to emphasize our policy of better living." Bonick added.

The sale items for Ben Franklin begin next week.

Now Is The Time To Gather Your Records For Taxes

Now is the time to put your financial house in order and get a head start on filing your income tax return for 1966. Look over those cancelled checks, receipts, records of contributions and other financial records. Make sure you have the record you need to prepare your 1966 tax return. You may find that you have a refund coming and want to file January 1 instead of April 15, 1967.

Farmers Urged To Respond On Irrigation Plan

Farmers, ranchers — have you mailed in your irrigation questionnaire to either the Comanche or De Leon Chamber of Commerce?

John Beaty, De Leon, Rt. 1, chairman of the planning group who are trying to establish an irrigation district to use the water from Lake Proctor, urge all those receiving the questionnaires to please return them.

The form is strictly for information, and will be used to conduct a study on the feasibility of such an irrigation district.

Returning the questionnaire in no way obligates the farmer or rancher, explains Beaty.

Hodges Named To Super-State Football Team

James Hodges, Granbury and son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hodges and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Parker of 800 West Grand, has been named to the Class AA all-state football team.

James is 6'1", 178 pound tailback ran for more yards than any other back in the state, except for Class AAAA state champ Steve Worster of Bridge City.

James had a total of 2,064 yards which consisted of 36 touchdowns and 22 extra points for a total of 238 points. He is a senior and 4 year letterman, and also competes in basketball and track. Along with being an honor student.

Hodges also received another top honor this week, that as being picked on the Super All State team, composed of players from AAAA, AAA, AA and A schools. He was the only Class AA player selected on the team.

Granbury, who lost to the Sweeney Bulldogs in the state finals also put two more players on the team selection: Jimmy Tidwell, quarterback and Harold Ames, tackle. George Rains, junior, brother of CHS Indian Maiden basketball coach Leta Andrews also was named on the honorable mention.

This is the furthest that any member of the district which Comanche has ever been a member of has advanced.

Cold Weather Cancels Rodeo

AJRA Rodeo scheduled for this week in Comanche was cancelled Tuesday by its producer Richard C. Armstrong.

The official weather report was for heavy snow and freezing weather in Comanche beginning Wednesday and continuing through the weekend.

"We had to decide on Tuesday whether to have the show or not, and due to the coming bad weather, we cancelled," stated Armstrong.

February Is Heart Month

by Mrs. Euell Arthur, President
You can help your Heart Association learn many things by giving to the Heart Fund in your local Comanche Heart Council.

Remember, this year, that there have been a number of your friends and mine saved because we cared enough to give our dimes and dollars for research.

The U.S. death rates for hypertensive heart disease, stroke and rheumatic fever has been reduced by advances in medical science. The death rate for heart attack, however, the killer which alone takes 550,000 lives a year, is still climbing.

Close to 22½ million Americans have some form of heart disease. This includes more than 3 million who have coronary disease, about 10 million who have hypertensive heart disease, another million who have rheumatic heart disease or inborn heart defects, and close to 7 million who have high blood pressure without heart disease.

1966 Rainfall Comes Right

Looking at this year's rainfall (see box) it's not necessarily how much rain you get, it's when you get it.

This year Comanche peanut farmers made a bumper crop, averaging nearly 50 bushels an acre, dry land. The highest average before this year was 28.5.

However, 1966 was the driest year in the county in the past ten years, having only 20.33 inches of rainfall during the year.

Only 0.41 inches of moisture has been recorded in the past three months, making this the driest October, November, December in the past 66 years.

The 7.42 inches of rain in April put the season in the ground for the peanuts, then only light rainfall in May, June and July. However, when the rain was really needed in August and September, it came — 3.33 inches in August and 4.35 inches in September.

people and wish you a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. I have been working at the Al Saints Hospital at Fort Worth the past year."

Another Christmas card that we always appreciate receiving comes from Dr. and Mrs. James C. Slider and family. The Slider family for many years have served Comanche County well and are still at it.

A lovely Christmas folder comes from Mr. and Mrs. William C. Chilton. The Chiltons, counting their parents before them, have been serving Comanche County for many years and we wish them continued success.

A lovely Christmas folder comes from The Collinsworth family of the Proctor sector. They are worthy citizens of the county and we wish them continued success.

Their wish is sufficient it simply says, "God bless you at Christmas and all through the year."

Another Christmas folder that we appreciate very much comes from The Causeys - Loretta, Mattie Mae and Weldon. Their written message says: "We hope that you and yours have a wonderful Christmas and a happy 1967 all the way through."

A Christmas card that we really appreciate comes all the way from Alvord from Judy and Ed Frensel. They sent along a beautiful handkerchief for us to cry on when we think of us losing them as neighbors when they moved away a few years ago.

A lovely Christmas card comes from the Caraway family, which says a traditional wish, "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year." The lovely Christmas program and dinner sponsored by Judge and Mrs. Caraway recently was one of the best and the food was never better.

A Christmas card that we always appreciate receiving comes again from The Fletchers - Sherman, Evia Lena, Hugh and Sarah.

Their message says: "Best wishes for Christmas and the New Year" and we would like to wish the same back to them.

A much appreciated Christmas folder comes from Mrs. Julia Burks. Mrs. Burks says: "I miss all you good Comanche

A beautiful Christmas card comes from Oklahoma City from Lespie Rutliff. She says: "Dear Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilkerson, I have been wishing all day that I might carry my Christmas Greeting from my house to your house in person. I wish each of you a most happy holiday and the same to all the surviving members of the CHS Class of 1915. Lespie Rutliff, 1501 N.W. 21, Oklahoma City, Okla. 73106."

A beautiful Christmas card comes all the way from New York City from John Adams Lemly who says: "Best wishes for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year." Same wishes back to the family whom we are not able to recall at this time.

A beautiful Christmas folder comes again this Christmas from Gail and Editha Dudley which we appreciate very much. The Dudleys are always ready to do their part for the betterment of Comanche County.

A lovely Christmas folder also from Theresa Dudley and Faye B. Evans of the Dudley family which we appreciate very much. We are glad now to have them almost as neighbors in the northwest part of Comanche.

A lovely Christmas folder also comes from Mrs. Jewell Edmondson. Her message says: "Christmas Greetings and best wishes to you and yours for the New Year." We wish to extend the same wishes to Mrs. Edmondson.

A lovely Christmas folder comes from Jake and Louise Sledge. This is a fine couple who deserve all the good things which seem to be coming their way. May they continue to prosper and to be of service to their community.

A lovely Christmas card comes from Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gaiter whose message says: "A sincere wish for your happiness and peace this holiday season and throughout the New Year."

It seems that prosperity is spreading that way as ground is being broken for three new business firms in that vicinity just east of the overpass on the Fort Worth highway.

Another Christmas greeting comes from the Dunns which we appreciate very much. For many years the Dunn family have been working for the betterment of our community.

Another holiday greeting which we appreciate very much comes from Marshall and Louise Meyers. Gus has been with the Chief ever since World War II where he served Uncle Sam. Gus always does his best at everything he undertakes to do.

Christmas greetings come again this year from Pat and Opal Howard. These are two useful citizens who do much for their community. Pat is especially gifted in the field of music and perhaps has more students in that field than any other person in the county.

A Christmas folder comes from Major and Mrs. Gaudin of Little Rock Arkansas. They say: "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year and she says Hello to all her Comanche friends and relatives."

One among our last Christmas folders to open comes from one of our nearest neighbors, Vonda and Cap Gleaton.

Their message says only a few words but means much - "Wishing you a joyous Christmas Season."

We appreciate the following Christmas message from Mary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Smith.

"May your Christmas be as pleasant
 As the scent of evergreen
 As lovely and heartwarming
 As a quiet winter scene -
 As merry and as happy
 As a lulling choir song -
 And may these joys of Christmas time
 Be with you all year long."

"Eve didn't hang stockings, neither did Adam. Didn't wear stockings, nobody did. Didn't send cards, nobody had 'em. So take this card and mail it to Adam." by Eva Long Bobo, Ranger, Christmas, 1966.

A beautiful card from Pat Cagle received by The Chief says: "Best wishes to all for a happy Holiday Season and the New Year."

A Christmas folder comes from Esther and Kenneth Ory which says "All good wishes for a happy new year and a Merry Christmas." Dr. Ory, after a successful career as a medical doctor in West Texas and in Comanche seems to be enjoying his retirement as does his beautiful and talented wife, Esther.

A card we always enjoy receiving comes again from Hip and Ernestine Arthur. This is another successful couple who still look and act young, and always seem to be busy.

Christmas would not be full without a greeting from Mrs. Frank Ross and her talented daughter, Marguerite, who is one of the best teachers in Texas according to state and national magazines.

A valuable Christmas remembrance comes from the Norris Insurance Co. in the form of a desk calendar that will serve as a useful gift all year.

Omie and Leo Shankle have been active and busy citizens of Comanche for many years, and they seem to be just reaching their prime.

We appreciate very much the following card received from Clyde and Nona Williams and sons, newcomers to Comanche. Their written message says "We have loved and appreciated you and Mrs. Wilkerson since moving to Comanche. We have noticed your interest in the young people of our town and we are proud to have people like you to encourage them as they seek their goal in life."

Ever since we have been in Comanche, approximately 50 years, we have learned to appreciate the Durham family more and more. Times and customs change but Characters generally do not.

In the early days families were large and everybody worked. Now most families are small and perhaps less than 40 percent of the people live in the country, but the families ties remain about the same.

One of the prettiest cards we received this year comes from the N. N. Durhams who are noted for keeping a pretty yard full of flowers.

We appreciate a pretty Christmas folder from Juanita Eary which says:
 God Bless your home this Christmas
 With the warmth of family cheer -
 The special happiness that comes
 When loved ones gather near
 And may He lovingly bestow
 The blessings and the grace
 That keep your home, through out the year,
 A bright and happy place!

We appreciate very much and feel honored very much to have received a beautiful Christmas folder from Governor John Connally and their two children Sharon and Mark, showing a picture of the family group.

We feel flattered and pleased to have received the following letter from Mr. and Mrs. John Pogue:
 Dear Wilkersons,
 It has been such fun getting to know you and your nice family and having you for our friends. We feel especially fortunate in this.
 It would be nice to drop in on you at some time during the holidays and we shall make that one of our projects. Thank you.

We wish for you a wonderful Holiday Season and know that with all your loved ones around you, that will come to pass. We have been hungry to see you.

Love,
 Margaret

It has been our good fortune to know Edwin Palmer for more than 50 years and to know Mrs. Palmer for a long time. She is a noted piano player and teacher and is talented in many other fields.

Ed, a successful merchant and land owner, is also now mayor of Gustine and head of the Masonic Lodge at Gustine. Ed and I were members of the same graduating class at the University of Texas.

The Christmas folder we received from the Palmers this year was beautiful and most interesting.

We may be prejudiced, but we think one of the prettiest folder we received this Christmas was one showing off three of our young great grandchildren, children of Joe and Lyn Cox.

Another beautiful Christmas folder comes from Baytown showing off Grace Brightman Schiller, her husband, Jimmie and children, Karen and Curt. All are doing well in school, college and business.

One of our prettiest Christmas folders this year comes from one of our most noted senior citizens, T. J. Williams, who for many years headed the local Higginbotham firm and was active in church and community affairs. His message simply says: "Merry Christmas and best wishes for a happy New Year."

One of our last Christmas cards to arrive the Lieutenant Governor and family, Ima, Preston, Jan, Micky and Shirley a happy group.

One of our last folder to open and one of the prettiest comes from the famous Durham sisters, Ruby Barton and Lillian. You would have to see this Christmas scene to really appreciate it.

A Christmas folder that we always appreciate and expect comes again from Corinne and Dwight Brightman, well known to most people of the Comanche area.

Dwight, a veteran of World War I, a former F.B.I. agent for many years, ex sheriff and county judge of Comanche County, now specializes in breeding fine Black Angus cattle and ranching, and still has time for church and social functions.

A Christmas folder that we appreciate very much comes from Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Flannery and family.

A lovely Christmas card comes from The Bill Clemons family. Bill is one of the busy men of Comanche and is a community leader and a good organizer, a trait which he probably inherited from his father Ira B. Clemons, one of the county's most active citizens.

A lovely Christmas card comes from Margaret and Herbert Williams, which we appreciate very much. They represent two important families of Texas. Herbert is the son of T. J. Williams, now retired, who for many years headed the Higginbotham stores of this section and is a native of Austin, where her father served as mayor for many years.

One of our lovely Christmas folders comes from our grandson Jimmy Wilkerson and his lovely wife, the former Nancy Caraway who were married last summer. Jimmy is a student at the University of Texas and Nancy is a graduate of that university and now is teaching in one of the suburban school of Austin. It would be hard to find a better couple and impossible if you let their Granddad be the judge.

A lovely Christmas folder which we were beginning to fear was not going to come arrived at last from Ralph and Nell Hutt. They send greetings to all their Comanche friends.

One of our prettiest Christmas folders comes from Mary Ida and George Bonser. We really appreciate this from our good friends. This folder is so pretty that we are not going to undertake to describe this sacred scene.

A lovely and much appreciated card comes from Ernestine and Bill Kerr of Fort Worth. Ernestine is a cousin of Mrs. J. C. Wilkerson and the other Brightman children and Bill Kerr is a prominent Fort Worth man.

Another lovely Christmas card picturing Christ in the manger comes from The Floyd Prathers. We wish to thank them for this beautiful folder.

A Christmas card we were about to think would not come finally arrived from Alma Jean Don and Charles Wetzel. Their message said: "To wish you a blessed Christmas and a New Year filled with happiness."

One of our first Christmas cards we received came from Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Burks, but somehow managed to get down to the bottom of the stack and ended up last.

It says:
 Christmas time brings pleasant thoughts
 Of sleighbells in the snow
 Of children laughter friendly greetings, candles all aglow
 And then of course, it brings the chance
 For keeping close in touch
 With extra special folks like you
 Who mean so very much
 Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.
 From A. P. and Margaret Burks.

ROYCE LUBKE . . . tops Indian pointmakers

Indians Dump Eagles, 88-50

Coach Orland Aldridge's Comanche Indians went on a scoring spree at the local gym last Tuesday night and blasted the Goldthwaite Eagles 88-50.

It was the highest scoring effort of the season for Comanche, winner of 11 games while dropping only three.

The game started out like it would be a fairly close contest, with Comanche holding a 16-9 first quarter lead.

In the second period, Comanche jumped to a 24-11 lead, but then the Goldthwaite Eagles scored 10 straight points to make it 24-21 with less than 3 minutes to go in the half.

The Indians found their shooting eye again in those final three minutes and poured in 15 straight points to almost put the game out of reach at half-time, leading 39-21.

Comanche was outscored by the Eagles, 20-16, in the third quarter, but still had a comfortable lead, 55-41.

In the final period, Comanche poured through 33 points. It was a foul-plagued game, with a total of 64 infractions being called—34 against Comanche and 30 against Goldthwaite. Each team had three players foul out.

Comanche had 6 men in the magic double figures. Royce Lubke, CHS sophomore guard, was high pointmaker with 17 counters. Clyde Weaver had 12; Billy Williams 11; and Bobby Reeves, Harry Cloud and Jerry Ellis, 10 each.

Tommy Humphrey scored 7 points for the Indians; Stephen Norris 5, Charles Williams 4, and Kim Cockerham 2.

Jerry Beene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Beene was home for Christmas. Jerry is living in San Francisco, Calif., and flying for Pan-American Airways.

The Birth Of A New Year

The birth of a New Year may seem — to many people — precious little reason for celebrating. As you tot up your Christmas bills, worry about your mounting uel expenses, and ponder the world situation, you may reflect that if 1967 is going to be like 1966, who needs it?

But never fear. There are plenty of other excuses for celebrating on Jan. 1.

Birthdays are always cause for a party. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, was born Jan. 1, 1895. Instead of shouting "Happy New Year," you can shout "Happy birthday J. Edgar!"

Other famous people have New Year's Day for their birthdays, according to researchers for World Book Encyclopedia. Lorenzo de'Medici, patron of the arts and ruler of Florence, was born Jan. 1, 1449. Revolutionary patriot Paul Revere called Jan. 1, 1735, his birthday, and Revolutionary hero "Mad Anthony" Wayne was born on the same date 10 years later.

And though it may be unchivalrous to mention a lady's age, flagmaker Betsy Ross came into the world Jan. 1, 1752.

There are plenty of other reasons for celebration. Haiti proclaimed its independence from France Jan. 1, 1804. Abraham Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation Jan. 1, 1863. The Commonwealth of Australia was proclaimed Jan. 1, 1901. And the United States parcel post service began Jan. 1, 1913.

But don't let your party last long; not more than a week or two. It was on Jan. 16, 1919, that the 18th amendment to the Constitution was ratified.

That's the amendment that prohibited the sale of alcoholic beverages.

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our appreciation for the many acts of kindness extended to us during the illness and death of our loving mother, Mrs. Lela Cunningham. To Rev. Isham, whose loving words made our sorrow easier to bear, to the staff of Oak Lawn Funeral Home who were so wonderful, to the singers and pallbearers, we can never say how much you have made our sorrow easier to bear. The food and flowers were so beautiful. All we can say is thank you so much and may God be with you every day. — The children and grandchildren of Mrs. Lela Cunningham. (1tp)

Gustine Class Says 'Thanks'

The following letter was received by the Chief this week. The Comanche Chief

Dear Sirs:

The Junior Class of Gustine High School would like to thank you for printing the announcement concerning the Junior play in your weekly paper. We appreciate your thoughtful co-operation.

Thank you again for helping make our play a big success. Sincerely,
The Junior Class

GET WITH IT

Well Christmas has come and gone... now we look forward to another one next year.

Christmas, for most Comancheans, meant spending a little more than we could afford, eating too much, and enjoying it all.

Things look good for the town of Comanche in 1967. Of course, most of us would be happy to settle for as good a year as in 1966. It was a record year for most Comanche County business men and farmers.

Regardless of how much industry we get (and it really helps), Comanche's economy is based on agriculture. Good crops, and grasses means more $$$ in each Comanchean's pocket.

And in this county, as it is in most areas the agriculture revenue depends on water. If you get it at the right time, and the correct amount, water will make a crop, with the proper management.

A group of Comanche County farmer-ranchers are now in the process of trying to establish an irrigation district to use all the available water from Lake Proctor.

A questionnaire was mailed this week to Comanche County farmers and ranchers asking if they were interested in such a project.

Water engineers are now in the process of conducting a study on cost, etc. of irrigating on land 10 and 15 miles from the lake.

The cost might be too great. But what price would you give for water, if it insured you a bumper crop, or even just making a crop?

As the new year rolls around, many are wondering just what it will bring.

Several things are pretty certain. The new year will not bring peace in Viet Nam, it will not bring any reduction in taxes, it is not likely that the cost of living is going to ease to amount to anything. Government continues to cost more and more money, and this pertains not only to Federal government, but also to State. Inflation takes in just about everything.

But in spite of all this, the United States is a good country. Where else would you prefer to live?

Yes, next year American citizens are going to find things pretty much the same. Some economists are predicting that business will not be quite as good as it has been this year. Here in Comanche, we are in a little different situation. Comanche's new manufacturing company is now already employing over 50 person, and expects to expand to 200. Gold Kist, Moor-Mans, Choice Baking, Wright Leather Goods, Durham Pecan, Central Texas Fertilizer and Comanche Trailer are all big employers in Comanche and chances are good that they will even employ more next year than they did this year.

Yes Sir, Where else would you prefer to live?

Comanche High School hasn't been noted for it's winning football teams in the past few years. In fact, CHS probably has one of the poorest overall records since 1960 of any AA team in the state.

Winning only 17 games, losing 53, and not compiling a winning season.

However, while the Indians haven't had an impressive grid record, the basketball teams have been doing great.

In the past 4 years, Comanche has won 3 district titles and tied for another, and this year the Indians are rolling with a fine 11-3 record.

If you like basketball, or just like to be with a crowd that enjoys yelling and winning, it would be worth your time to see a game in the near future.

The gym has been enlarged too, so this year you can find a seat.

How many servicemen from Comanche County are serving overseas? How many would you guess. We have no idea, but we are trying to get a list on these men.

If you know of a man in the armed services overseas, please send the name or call us.

The trouble with the average man is that he seldom increases his average.—WBW

Houston Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jack Barret and Lou spent three days after Christmas visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Colvin and family in Houston.

Holiday Visitors

Mrs. Julia Burks of Fort Worth and Lance Corporal Mrs. Roy Buflin were overnight visitors in Comanche with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burks and family. The Buffins were enroute to El Toro, California from Tennessee.

Most Everyone Must File An Income Tax Form

Everyone under 65 years old, whether single or married, who is a citizen or resident of the United States and had gross income of $600 or more during the year must file a return. Ellis Campbell, Jr. District Director of the Internal Revenue Service for northern Texas advised taxpayers today, furnishes more detailed information on this subject, may be obtained by dropping a post card to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, 1600 Patterson Street, Dallas, Texas 75201.

CHS Fem Cagers Take Honors At Duncanville

Comanche girls won their first game in the 24-team Duncanville Basketball Tournament, downing Plano in overtime 34-33 before losing to defending State Champion Spearman 58-37.

While Coach Leta Andrews' girls were eliminated in the tournament, the Maidens did take one top honor—Jodie Prater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Prater and a CHS basketball forward, was named as queen of the tournament.

Jodie, who this summer was crowned Miss Junior Comanche, was chosen over 34 nominees.

Linda Hicks scored 20 points in each of the games played in Duncanville. Judy Gleaton scored 10 in each of the games.

Miss Sara Sims and Wesley Coleman Exchange Vows Dec. 23

MRS. WESLEY COLEMAN

Northway Christian Church, Dallas, was the scene for the Friday evening, Dec. 23 wedding of Miss Sara Frances Sims and Kenneth Wesley Coleman. The Reverend Patrick Henry, Jr., officiated at the ceremony. The parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Able Sims, Atlanta. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Word Coleman of San Antonio, and grandson of Mrs. George Newton Burkett of Comanche.

The bride was a magna cum laude graduate of North Texas State University where she was a charter member of Beta Gamma Sigma, was named Who's Who at North Texas, and was selected Outstanding Business Education Student. She is a member of the Cotillion and Cimarron Clubs of Dallas.

Her husband is a former student of Arlington State College.

The beauty of the altar was enhanced by candelabra decorated with greenery and white magnolia blossoms. This was combined with the traditional Christmas decorations of the church consisting of red velvet drapes and artificial greenery. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Sam Parker, organist, presented a program of nuptial music.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight satin. A lace veil defined the Empire line of the gown, which featured a decollete neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The chapel train unfolded from the back yoke accented by a bow. She wore a hand-finished Belgian lace veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. John David Clayton was matron of honor and Miss Mary Gail Henry served as maid of honor. Each wore a formal gown fashioned of Samaron rose crepe featuring a sculptured neckline and elbow-length sleeves topped an empire bodice. The bride's attendants carried cascades of bettertimes roses.

John Phillip Marcell was best man and James Alfred Wilson, the bridegroom's cousin, served as groomsmen. Ushers were David Ford Sims, brother of the bride, and Page Hill.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sims chose a suit of blue

MRS. JOHNNY PERKINS

Miss Mary Smith Recent Bride of Johnny Perkins

Miss Mary Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith and granddaughter of Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Dodd was recently united in marriage to Johnny Lee Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Perkins. The ceremony was performed at the Hasse Revival Center by Rev. L. C. Dodd.

Jean Dodd aunt of the bride and Faylene Isham were the musicians. The songs "Because" and "I Love You Truly" were sang.

Diane Longwell, sister of the bride, and Rose Ann Goforth, cousin of the bride, were maid of honors. Rita Jean Dodd, cousin of the bride was flower girl. Gary Doyle Dodd, cousin of the bride and Randy Patterson were candle lighters.

Richard Burks, cousin of the groom and Danny Longwell, brother-in-law of the bride were the best men. The ushers were Danny Ray Dodd and Roland Dodd uncles of the bride.

Mrs. J. D. Bachman, sister of the groom registered the guest at the bride's book. The Garden Clubbers Have Christmas Dinner, Dec. 15

Forty-one members were present for the covered dish dinner that was held at the home of Garden Center December 15 at 7 p.m.

Tables were laid with red and green cloths centered by miniature decorated Christmas trees of live cedar. A lighted Christmas tree and burning candles, with the many beautiful Christmas arrangements made by Mrs. Elmo Montgomery, Mrs. Tom Dudley, Mrs. Darrell Smith, and Mrs. Elsie Rea, made a scene of beauty for the party.

The menu of chicken spaghetti, cranberry salad, green peas, relishes, hot rolls, and carrot cake was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Jim Bumpas, Mrs. C. A. Crowner, Mrs. John Burton, Mrs. Armstrong Cox, Mrs. C. T. Boyd, and Mrs. H. C. Williams.

Mrs. Clarence Rea, president, presented Mrs. Herbert Lockwood who gave "The Legend of the Christmas Tree", and Mrs. Porter Franks, who read an original poem that was a parody on "Twas the Night Before Christmas" and a Christmas story, "A Certain Small Shepherd." The party was concluded with group carol singing, led by Mrs. Robert Eaton and accompanied by Mrs. John Barton.

CHRISTMAS VISITORS IN DAVIS HOME

Visiting with Aunt Mary Davis and Vesta for Christmas supper were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Davis, Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davis, Dublin; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Langley and Rhonda; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Davis, Denise and Shelia, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Couch, Glenia, Steve, and Johnny Sanderson; Bill Davis; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McDonald, Michelle and Cris, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hooker, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Davis, Connie and Mark, and Mr. and Mrs. Donell Davis, De Leon.

Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Whitehead, Karen and Barry, Dublin; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Masters, Kathy and Keith, El Paso, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, Freda, Steve and David.

reception was held at the church. Mrs. Danny Dodd, Mrs. Roland Dodd, and Mrs. Richard Dodd, aunts of the bride, an Mrs. J. D. Bachman, sister of the groom, were hostesses at the reception.

The couple are now making their home in Comanche on the De Leon Highway.

37 Present At R. E. Parkers For Christmas Dinner

'Twas the Night Before Christmas and the family began to gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Parker for their annual Christmas gathering.

And by the middle of Christmas morning some 37 or more persons were present for the family Christmas tree and dinner, which everyone always looks forward to.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parker and Mike; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parker, Max, Bruce, Glenn and Susan; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Parker and Wayne Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Goforth, David, Tommy and Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Turner and Melody; Mr. and Mrs. Odell Ormsby, Carol, Robert and Nancy, all of Comanche; and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simpson, Bobby and Joni, Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hodges, James, Jerry, Barry, Granbury, and Mr. and Mrs. Dicky Dickson of Dallas.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

By Vern Sanford

Tide tables are invaluable to the salt water fisherman. Sunrise and sunset times are equally important to the hunter. Most newspapers every day list this information in their weather boxes.

This is dandy for the outdoorsman who plans to go fishing or hunting on a paper's date of issue. But what about the outdoorsman who wants to plan weeks, maybe even months ahead?

He can still get the information from the nearest U.S. Weather Bureau. But this takes time.

However, for an investment of $2 the outdoorsman can get all this information in book form covering the entire 12 months period.

The book is Tide Tables and it's published by the U.S. Department of Commerce. Actually there are four separate books—European waters, North and South America east coast, North and South America west coast and Pacific and Indian Oceans.

Since you're living in Texas, you'll want the book on North and South America east coast waters.

Tide Tables can be ordered through most book stores or by writing direct to the Coast and Geodetic Survey Service in Washington, D. C.

Tide Tables lists high and low water times for every day in the year. Behind each time listing is the tide height in feet in relation to mean low water.

Base points are taken all along the North and South America east coasts. For Texas the base point is Galveston. For other points on the Texas coast various corrections must be made by either adding or subtracting time. This, too, is covered in the book.

For example, on page 240 of the 1966 book time corrections as well as corrections for height in water are listed for such points as Sabine Pass Jetty, Freeport Harbor, Pass Cavallo, Port O'Connor, Port Lavaca, Aransas Pass, Brazos Santiago and Port Isabel.

While tides have little influence on offshore fishing, they are of the utmost of importance when it comes to surf or bay fishing. Knowing in advance the tide times and water heights will enable you to map your fishing trip intelligently.

Pages 251 through 269 contain valuable information for the hunter. This section lists sunrise, sunset, moonrise and moonset times. And, of course, there are corrections for areas other than the base points listed.

With game laws being more strictly enforced every year, it's important to know exact sunrise and sunset hours and minutes in order to keep from running afoul of the law.

The book isn't hard to follow. Times are listed on the military system of 1 through 24. If you've had any military training at all, you'll know, for example, that a time listed in the book as 1430 is nothing more than 2:30 p.m. (2 hours and 30 minutes past 12 noon), and hunting.

Question and Answers Given On US Taxes

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

A: I was audited last year and had to pay additional tax on my income. What are the chances I will be audited again?

A: Just because you have been audited once does not mean that you will automatically be audited the following year. Returns are selected for audit because there are apparent errors on the returns indicating overpayment or underpayment of tax. Returns are also selected for audit on a random basis to test and encourage correct reporting.

A: At some time or other, all taxpayers may expect to have their returns audited. At present, all returns are mathematically verified. Also, periodic checks on other aspects of a return contribute to sound tax administration.

Q: I'm withholding Social Security taxes for my maid who works in my home. Do I have to withhold income taxes too?

A: No. Household employees are exempt from income tax withholding.

Q: I just found out my father paid tax last year on his Social Security benefits. Is it too late to do anything about it?

A: No. Security benefits are not taxable and your father is entitled to a refund on the tax.

Q: Making corrections for areas listed between base points involves nothing more than simple arithmetic—addition or subtraction.

It's also a fine book for planning those out of Texas vacation fishing trips. You can find east coast tide tables all the way from Argentina, Newfoundland, to Punta Loyola on the southern tip of Argentina in South America.

In using this book one point must be taken into consideration. Remember all the predictions listed are made for constant and ideal weather conditions. Strong sustained winds influence tides by making them either higher or lower than the predicted heights. The winds, however, do not influence the times of high and low tides, but only the height of the water.

Size-wise the book—19 inches by seven inches—and 3/4 of an inch thick—will fit neatly in your tackle box.

This book isn't something entirely new. The Coast and Geodetic Survey has been publishing Tide Tables since 1853. The are intended for the use of the mariner, but easily can be adapted to benefit your fishing and hunting.

he paid on them. This can be done by filing a claim for refund on Form 843 or by filing an amended return.

To file an amended return, use a Form 1040 and write "amended" across the top. Then fill in the return as it should have been and recompute the tax liability.

Q: I'm in this country as a foreign exchange student. If I earn any money while I'm here will I have to pay U.S. tax on it?

A: Money earned while you are here will most likely be taxable income. Your tax obligations are explained in the booklets, "U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens" and "Tax Advice for Foreign Scholars", etc. They are available at no charge from the District Director's office.

Q: In the restaurant where I work, most of the tips we get come from the service charge that is added on to the bill. Since we get this money from our employer we haven't been reporting this as tips. Now I find out that some friends of mine working in another restaurant are reporting this money as tip income. Was I right?

A: You are. Service charges shared by employees are considered wages and are reported as such by your employer. You need not include them when you report to your employer the cash tips you made.

Q: I received some U.S. savings bonds from my mother's estate. Will I have to pay on them?

A: The bonds do not have to be declared as income, but you will have to pay tax on the interest. The year in which you report this income depends on the type of bond. For an explanation, contact your Internal Revenue Service office.

Q: I've been out on sick leave for a month now and it looks as if it'll be several months before I can return to work. I'm sure I'll qualify for the sick pay exclusion when I file next year's return. Can my boss stop withholding income tax on the pay I receive while I'm out?

A: If you receive your sick pay under an employer-financed plan, then you may ask your employer not to withhold income tax on the excludable portion. To do this, your employer has to have evidence that you do qualify for the sick pay exclusion. Therefore, the best thing for you to do is to give the payroll department at your place of employment the information needed for its record.

Thinking of You...

To Touch, To Forgive, To Love

To touch the untouchable, to forgive the unforgivable, to love the unlovable is to claim your richest heritage in life. Men may differ in how it was done, or even why. But all men agree that man is something more than a physical being. You live out this earthly existence imprisoned within physical bounds. But strangely, your non-physical being finds its cherished moments, freedom, not in serving the needs of self, but in serving others.

To touch the untouchable is not a pleasant thing. In ancient times these included the lepers, the diseased, the outcasts. In our day of affluence the downtrodden, the victims of a space-age economy and culture may need your touch of courage. The mentally lame can not possibly cope with the pace and demands of secular society. Such persons need your touch of understanding.

There was a man who complained of having no shoes until he met a man who had no feet. Wars, birth defects, accidents produce millions of handicapped. The less fortunate are often gathered into ghettos of untouchables. Each one needs the touch of a strong hand to bring assurance and courage. It could be your hand.

To forgive the unforgivable is an act of mercy. Morally depraved men and women are drawn together like pus in an open sore. They feel a security in like kind. Forgiving, selfish love, applied to one by one can cleanse and heal. The social outcast hungers for the forgiving concern of another who already has forgiveness from a Higher Source. The goddess, though sometimes harsh and brazen on the outside, yearns for a forgiveness from another whose faith is not afraid to forgive.

To love the unlovable is to release an indescribable force for which there is no final resistance. Your smile of hope, given in exchange for the bitterness of tongue and tale is a kind of love for the unlovable. It tests your patience to the core. But its stronger than free. But there's a miracle here and here, as you use this key for hope in both giver and receiver. Vile language and freedom also.

Texas Forestry Service Offers Tree Seedlings

Windbreaks, properly spaced help conserve water and topsoil and help protect crops, livestock and homesteads. Tree seedlings, suitable for windbreak plantings in Central, South and West Texas can be ordered now for shipment between mid-January and March 1967, according to Mason Cloud of the Texas Forest Service, College Station.

Species available from the Indian Mound Nursery near Alto include: black locust, cottonwood, catalpa, Chinese elm, mulberry, Osage orange, red cedar, sycamore, eucalyptus, a buffaloberry, rose multiflora, and Austrian loblolly, ponderosa, shortleaf, and slash pine. Stratified black walnut seed is also available.

Orders must be for 100 or more trees in multiples of 50. Cost of seedlings and seed is $1.50 per hundred plus state sales tax. Seedlings may not be resold nor used for ornamental purposes. "Orders will be accepted on the first-come-first-serve basis and shipped prepaid," Cloud said.

Applications and guide sheets for planting and care of windbreaks can be obtained from the Director, Texas Forest Service, College Station.

filthy thoughts are often a cry for help from the helpless. Your cleanness of mind and expression in such presence is judgement-love without condemnation-love for the unlovable.

The fallen, the lonely, the wretched are unlovable creatures imprisoned in a dungeon of lovelessness. Unselfish love is the only key that will unlock their prison doors to set them free. As you use this key for hope in both giver and receiver, it opens your door to ceiver. Vile language and freedom also.

NEWS DIGEST

by M. Autry, Rt. 1, Dublin

Recently a member of the God-is-dead sect, reportedly asked the question: "If God is alive where does He live?" The question can't be answered, of course, to the satisfaction of the questioner, for the simple reason that the sect doesn't recognize God as a spirit, or spiritual, as the Bible explains. Neither can they understand the immortal soul of man and the relationship between the soul and the spirit of God. This affinity is understood by the spiritual person. He knows that God dwells within his own heart and conscience and is seren in his belief. Something the sect member can never acquire, or know.

Further deterioration of morals in this country was emphasized a few days ago when the chairman of the Texas Council of Churches was quoted as saying he would support a measure allowing the sale of liquor by the drink in restaurants and taverns. If use of liquor is wrong it is wrong by the drink, ounce, pint, quart or by any other means of measuring it. Since the Council was said to be evenly divided in its opinion on this question, it appears that the members should firm their position on liquor one way or the other, and make it known.

Former Vice President Richard Nixon, is a speech in Las Vegas recently, struck a responsive chord in the hearts of many Americans when he said, "We should give no aid to those who help our enemy with trade." The British have been conducting an all-out trade with North Viet Nam, yet she has the temerity to ask the U. S. to help with sanctions against struggling Rhodesia in that little nation's attempt to become free of Britain's domination. And naive Uncle Sam seems ready to acquiesce. When will we get off Britain's wobbly bandwagon?

An authority on the U. S. traffic situation was quoted last week as saying that the most important of all regulations is law enforcement. More careful screening of drivers was also mentioned as necessary in lowering the traffic death rate. This authority is suggesting some basic reasons for highway deaths and points directly to the culprits, careless drivers and languid law enforcement. Simple: If careless drivers were sufficiently afraid of the law governing them, there would be fewer accidents.

It was reported last week that the U. S. cotton grower is facing a serious situation and can do nothing about it—nothing that is, except get out of the cotton-picking business. Seems that synthetic fabrics have King Cotton hanging on the ropes and gasping for his last breath. But progress is progress and if cotton can't compete, well—that's all she wrote. The cotton grower may be forced to move to the sand and farm peanuts. So far nothing has been found that competes with the lowly goober bursting at the seams with calories n'stuff.

Headline: "Bobbing Hanoi could widen the war." Certainly it could, but it could also win it. According to recent reports Hanoi is now crowded with war-making facilities moved there for protection against U. S. bombers. The experts on the field claim it is pure nonsense—with present pinpoint bombing methods—to allow this sanctuary to prolong the war, particularly since civilians can be spared. Even nonexperts know that, to win a fight, the enemy must be hit hard, hard enough to force him to ask for peace. Hanoi, in ignoring peace offers, asks for trouble.

Honda, builder of the most popular motorcycle in the world today, is said to be developing a small one-man helicopter at one of his plants in Japan, that will be both inexpensive and perfectly safe. The man who has revolutionized the motorcycle industry with his sturdy and almost trouble-free 100 miles-to-the-gallon Honda, might well come up with something just as successful for one-man air travel. If so they will sell like the proverbial hotcakes at a price the average person can afford to pay. Moreover, the secret longing of many men, to fly high wide and alone, will be satisfied.

It was reported last week that the great condors of California, with their 9 ft. wingspread are on the increase at last. There are now 51 of these huge birds in existence representing an increase of 13 over the low of 38 two years ago. Biggest vultures in the world, the condors' home is in California where they are now properly protected. Like the great white whooping crane of which there are now 43 on the Texas wintering grounds they were almost extinct before protective measures were taken to save them.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"All For Mother"
Feeling death near, a man took a sheet of paper and scrawled three words: "All for mother."

No doubt, in his own mind, this phrase covered everything—clearly and concisely. But there was one catch. The "mother" he meant was not his own mother at all, but his wife—the mother of his children.

The mixup was finally straightened out in court proceedings after the man's death. But the case illustrates how mercurial is meaning—how risky it is for a person to dash off a "simple," do-it-yourself will in serene confidence that, after he is gone, his words will be clear to everybody.

Of course, the law's main goal is to carry out the intentions of the deceased. But just what were his intentions? With alarming frequency, bickering relatives can read the same same words and come up with different meanings.

Consider a few "simple" expressions that have led to courtroom battles: "money"—Does this include funds in a bank account? (One court said yes, if it is a checking account; another court said no, if it is a savings account.) "furniture"—Does this include everything useful in the house? (One court said it included linens; another court said it did not include books.)

"household effects"—Does this include more than furniture? Less? (One court said a stamp collection was covered; another court said jewelry and clothing were not.) "contents"—Does this include everything physically within? (A court held that the "contents" of a house included the steel safe in the basement but not the stocks and bonds inside the safe.)

In each of these cases the court had to examine the surrounding circumstances, not just the bare words of the will, to clear up the ambiguity. This procedure is not easy and not quick. It may breed bitterness in the family, cause legal complications, and— to everyone's chagrin—delay the distribution of the estate. All too often, wills composed in haste must be litigated at leisure.

Greetings from England
Clyde House and others in Comanche, received a greeting from Mrs. Ethel Thornton of 22 Crestfield Crescent, Elland, Yorkshire, England, who lived with her relatives, the Ainsworth family, in Comanche over 60 years ago. Mrs. Thornton spent most of her time in America with the Ainsworths, with the exception of a few years when she was housemaid for the late Dr. A. J. Gray family and the W. T. House family. She will always be remembered by them. Mrs. John Jolink, a granddaughter of the Gray family, had an opportunity ten years ago on a tour of England to visit with Mrs. Thornton, where she had returned with the passing of the Ainsworth family.

tribute To Elie K. Wilkerson

lected in the ladies' lounge. We were discussing what we would miss by not getting married. One dear, portly, motherly looking woman spoke out: "Well, girls, the fact that if I do not marry haunts me; for I can never be a grandmother. I loved my own grandmother so dearly that since I was a child I have wanted after I am mature to be a grandma."

A good grandmother enriches the lives of her grandchildren. Each may bring joy and meaning into the life of the other.

My Grandmother Wilkerson
My grandmother Wilkerson played an amazing part in my childhood and youth. I never knew my maternal grandmother for she died when my mother was fourteen. I had the good fortune of living near my Grandmother Wilkerson.

My grandmother Wilkerson was a woman with a kind understanding nature. She was devoted to her husband, her children, and her eleven grandchildren—seven by my father, and four by her daughter, Mrs. Nannie Rickman. She not only loved her grandchildren, but all children. Her neighbor children called her Grandma Wilkerson or Aunt Nancy.

Grandmother Wilkerson had a tall, stout figure and with a fairly straight back, only her shoulders were a little rounded. The bones of her face were good and broad across the cheek. Her eyes were deep blue and rather solemn under her heavy eyebrows. She had a big nose that like to smell nice odors. Her hair when I first knew her was thin iron-gray, which gradually changed to white. She wore her hair parted in the middle and pulled back into a knot with a tucking comb. I don't recall that she ever changed her hair-do. She wore no jewels except a band ring and breast pin on dress-up occasions. I never saw her with a expenses. In those days the garden produce had to be dried for winter use. There were no refrigerators or home freezers. Grandma made pickles, sauerkraut, and lye hominy. She had an ash hopper from which lye or potash was made. She made soap with grease and lye.

Grandma managed to have time to have a pretty yard. Her favorite flowers were chrysanthemums, phlox, zinnias, and morning glories.

Grandma was a good cook. She arose early and worked all day. In addition to her cooking, washing, ironing, gardening, milking and taking care of the house and chickens, she worked in the fields helping "Daddy" hoe cotton and corn, and picking cotton in the fall. She had little time for relaxation or fellowship with friends and neighbors except on Sundays. Yet she fulfilled the obligations of neighborliness and there were well worn paths leading to her son's and daughter's homes. Often she trudged down the path carrying a basket with a pie or a cake for her grandchildren. She was always happy to have any of her grandchildren with her.

We grandchildren helped her and "Daddy" with the cotton picking. It was my delight to take her big stick and mind off the calf while she was milking. After a few good crop years, Grandma and "Daddy" were able to have built a new house made of lumber. It contained one big room with a stairs above. It was built about six feet from the log cabin, and was connected with it by an elevated walk made of split logs. Grandma could walk across as agile as a cat. She had great pride in keeping her new house. It had glass windows. Her children gave her some lace window curtains. None of us grandchildren dared to touch those pretty curtains. Her fluffy, fat feather bed downstairs was always kept puffed up and covered with a white counterpane. At the head of her bed rested two big square pillows made of feathers and covered with pretty embroidered pillow shams with the motto—"Go to sleep like the flowers." We grandchildren knew better than to mess up her bed. We were taught to respect authority and our elders. Her bedroom was upstairs. The bed downstairs was for guests. Grandma had a big "grandfather clock" on a shelf on the back wall of her room. She wound it with a key every night. Her furniture was simple. She had an old fashioned bureau with two drawers on its table. In one she kept her little album which contained her family pictures; most of them were tintype. On the top stand of one drawer lay the big family Bible. That Bible was as sacred to us grandchildren as a church steeple. We were not convenient to a Sunday School in our early childhood. On Sunday morning we went to Grandma's for Bible instruction.

She would come out of the kitchen where she was making teacakes and drying her hands and reaching for her specs, she'd take down that dear old Bible and placing it on the broad arm of her big rocking chair she would begin turning its pages. We children would gather around her knees. She would reverently turn to some choice Scripture story, show us the pictures and tell us about it. She told us about God's Creation, about Noah and the Flood, the children of Israel, the birth of the Baby Jesus and gradually we began to know a little about God, a loving Father of us all and the home he had prepared for us in heaven. (I had the idea when I was a child that heaven was like Kentucky about which they told such wonderful stories.)

Grandma's Sunday morning hour in her rocking chair was my first Sunday School. The inspiration and fear from that Family Bible have never left me. Yes, I am glad I had a real honest - to - goodness grandmother. She never petted us very much and never spanked or punished us severely, but she could make me feel penitent and stop my mischief. She could settle us by telling how bad our parents would feel about our naughtiness.

In time my grandparents became more prosperous and added another room with a stair above it and a porch at the back. They never would have had to cut down the post oaks which grew in front. Grandma and "Daddy" went with our family and our uncles to a Methodist Church which had been organized in the Sandhill schoolhouse. Later they helped build and organize the Briar Methodist Church on stands. Grandma was a sweet, kind Christian woman and was good the site where the present Briar Baptist Church now to all her neighbors. She was present at all our births except Brother John's. She did not get there in time. She put our first clothes on us. She stood ready to lend a helping hand and an encouraging word to the sick. She was loved by both young and old. She was a most excellent mother-in-law. My mother loved her sincerely and taught us to honor and respect our Grandma. Grandma outlived her husband, our granddaddy. She tenderly and patiently nursed him when he was bedfast for six months in his home during his last days. Grandma passed from this earth in her little house in Aunt Nan's yard on Sept. 10, 1911. It was on a peaceful Sunday. God answered her prayers that she would not become helpless as "Daddy" did. She cooked her last meal and went in a hurry after a cerebral hemorrhage. Her precious body was laid family five years later into Parker County where her father established a county store which he operated in connection with his farming until his death in 1906.

Elie attended the New Hope Rural School in Parker County, and later received her B.A. Degree from North Texas State College and a M.A. Degree from T. C. U.

Miss Wilkerson taught school for more than forty years. Her teaching was done mostly in the Fort Worth schools, but included teaching in Childress, Live-Oak County, and Three Rivers.

Here from Pecos Mrs. Oswell Brightman who teaches at Pecos spent Christmas at home in Comanche.

Rites Held For Elie K. Wilkerson

Miss Elie K. Wilkerson, retired school teacher of Azle, Rt. 1, Parker County, and a sister of J. C. Wilkerson, editor and publisher of The Comanche Chief, died in a Fort Worth hospital Saturday, December 17.

Funeral services were held Monday, December 19, at the Knob Methodist Church, where she had been a member since childhood, and was one of its most active supporters.

Ministers officiating at the services were Rev. Tim Russell, pastor of the Knob Methodist Church; Dr. C. C. Sessions, pastor of the Polytechnic Methodist Church, Fort Worth, and Rev. Roy Felder, pastor of one of the larger Methodist churches of Beaumont, whose wife is Miss Wilkerson's niece.

Pallbearers were her nephews: Cot Richey, Springtown; Joe Wilkerson, Dallas; Harold Vick of the Fort Worth sector; Jim Wilkerson, superintendent of the Breckenridge schools; Gilbert Parish, Corpus Christi, and Bill Wilkerson, Comanche.

Miss Wilkerson, 81, was one of the seven children born to James W. Wilkerson and Imogene Puryear Wilkerson and was the first of the children to die. She was born in Wise County, but moved with the to rest in the New Hope Cemetery to await the Resurrection. I truly believe that "When the Last Trumpet Sounds," Grandma will be there listening for her name and searching for her children and grandchildren. Her spirit still leads us to strive for a good life. I truly loved my grandmother.

Tax Questions and Answers

Furnished by the Internal Revenue Service and published as a public service.

Q. My neighbor is paying me $25 a week to look after her little girl while she is at work. Is this money taxable?

A. Yes it is. The income should be included with whatever other income you receive to determine whether your gross income was $600 or more. If you file jointly with your husband, the income has to be included with the return you file. If you determine the nature of the services and provide them in your own home and the amount you receive from your neighbor totals $400 or more for the year, you must file a return and pay self-employment tax. That tax will help you build up retirement benefits under Social Security.

Q. I filed an amended return some months ago and I still haven't received the additional refund I have coming. What's the hold up?

A. The filing of an amended return presents unavoidable delays. Amended returns are considered claims, even if the amended return contains all the information called for, the return must be associated with the original return you filed. And if your original return had been pulled out of the normal processing cycle for any reason (it might be taken out for audit for example) the association will take longer. Even after the returns are associated, some amended returns will require an audit which further delays issuance of a refund.

Q. When is the last payment on estimated tax due?

A. If your tax ends Dec. 31 as is the case with most taxpayers, the final estimated tax payment is due Jan. 16, 1967. However, if you file your 1966 return by Jan. 31 and pay the full amount of the balance due, then the final estimated tax payment does not have to be made.

Q. I'm a salesman and need a car to cover my route. Can I deduct the purchase price of the car when I file my return?

A. No. However, you may deduct 10 cents for every mile

H. K. Kuhn Dies In Chicago

Harold Kenneth Kuhn died December 21 in Chicago, Ill. Mr. Kuhn had lived most of his life in De Leon where he was born. He was a merchant seaman with the rank of Fireman 2nd class.

He was born September 23, 1920 in De Leon to Orville Merle and Katie Carmen Kuhn.

He is survived by: his mother; a sister, Mrs. Lewis Bessett Luling, and his aunt, Mrs. W. C. Holdridge, De Leon. Services were held December 23 at 2:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of De Leon with Rev. Ralph Keckman as officiating minister assisted by Paine Hattox.

Burial was in De Leon Cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Joe Morgan, Olen Brownlee, Weldon Watts, John Weaver, Jim Asmus, Hiram Smith.

Here from Richardson

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Franks of Richardson spent the Christmas holidays in Comanche visiting with his mother, Mrs. Norman Zschiesche and family. Mr. Franks, who works for Collins Radio in Richardson has just returned from a five month job in Australia where he met and married Miss Marie Hodges of Adelaide, Australia on November 5. They arrived in the states on December 21.

In Port Lavaca

Larry Seivers and J. D. Walker were in Port Lavaca Tuesday on business.

You used the car on your job up to 15,000 miles. If your mileage exceeds that, additional miles traveled on business may be deducted at 7 cents a mile. Tolls, parking and similar items are also deductible. Instead of this method of deducting your business travel expenses, you may figure the actual operating costs of your car for the year. This involves depreciation, gas and oil, insurance, repairs and other operating costs. Most taxpayers find the mileage method easier.

Better Health Next Year

Hopefully, we can look forward to a year of good health in 1967.

As the American Medical Association points out, the past year was one of encouraging developments that may help ensure many of us a longer, more comfortable life.

Here's some of the medical progress of 1966:

The first successful implantation of artificial devices, popularly but incorrectly called "artificial hearts," into the chests of human beings to aid failing hearts.

A drug that preliminary investigation indicated may improve memory.

A dignified scientific study that gives a clearer understanding of the mysteries of human sexual response.

Adaptation and improvement of Russian-built artificial limbs by Canadian physicians. These devices derive motive power from the electric potential of muscle, eliminating the need for straps and springs.

The past year saw many American physicians volunteer their skills to help fill the immense need of the South Vietnamese people for medical care. The program through which they volunteer for 60 days of service in Vietnamese hospitals is known as AMA Volunteer Physicians for Viet Nam.

This past year was one in which American medicine made solid proposals for the kind of medical education required to provide communities with family physicians — a new kind of physician, broadly educated in continuous, comprehensive health care.

Finally, 1966 might be characterized as the year of vaccines. A mumps vaccine proved nearly 100 per cent effective in clinical trials. A prophylactic vaccine showed nearly total effectiveness in protecting unborn infants against the deadly "Rh factor" in some mothers' blood. Work continued on German measles vaccines, with great success reported in human trials. Wide use of existing

More Money Being Made On Fall Calves

From Texas A&M University Tennessee Colony — Lonnie Carroll, a rancher here, made $14 more from calves born in the fall than those born in the spring.

His fall calves weighed 462 pounds each at seven months, according to Anderson County Agricultural Agent W. L. LaRue. Spring calves weighed only 416 pounds at seven months, said LaRue.

Part of the reason for increased weights of the fall calves, said Carroll, is fall calves are large enough by spring to take advantage of increased milk production of the mothers. The lush spring grass makes for the better milk production of the cows.

Carroll said the spring calves ate more creep feed than the fall calves. Also, cow having fall calves gained more weight during the spring and summer.

Another advantage of fall calving, says Carroll, is less udder trouble with the cows. His cows are bred to drop calves in October and November so the calves will be ready for the May market. He has Hereford-Angus crossbred cows on common bermuda-crimson clover pastures.

Dudley Boys Home Joe Dudley from New Mexico Military Institute and John Dudley from the American Institute of Foreign Trade in Phoenix, Arizona, were in Comanche for the holidays with their family, the Gail P. Dudleys.

Vaccines was urged in a campaign to stamp out measles.

We are not yet at the end of the road to perfect health. Medicine makes no promise that we will ever get there—certainly not in the near future. Physicians still lose battles against such old killers as heart disease, stroke, and cancer.

But our prospects continue to improve for a rich, full life and a meaningful old age. One of the people we can thank for this is the American doctor.

It is hereby declared to be a nuisance for any person to keep or allow to be kept upon premises owned or in person's possession fowls within the City Limits of the City of Comanche, Texas, except for domestic use.

SECTION 3: PERSONS GUILTY:

It shall constitute a separate offense for each day fowls are kept within the City Limits in violation of ordinance; and both the owner and the person in possession of the premises upon which such nuisance is located the owner and the caretaker of such fowls shall be liable for violating this ordinance.

SECTION 4: PRESUMPTION

If any person has in their possession or upon premises, or owns or cares for fowls within the City Limits of the City of Comanche, Texas, of a number in excess of twenty-five (25), it shall be presumed that the fowls are for domestic use. However, this section shall in no way interpreted or construed to mean that any person or persons having in their possession, ownership or care, less than twenty-five (25) fowls shall be presumed to be kept for allowing same to be kept for domestic use.

SECTION 5: IMPOUNDING OF FOWLS

In the event any fowl are found within the City Limits of the City of Comanche, Texas, in violation of and contrary to any of the provisions of this ordinance, the same shall be a nuisance and shall be removed by any police officer taken to some place designated by the Chief of Police for such purpose and there kept by such officer until application for its redemption shall be made by the owner or his authorized agent; he shall be entitled to the possession of the fowl upon payment to the City of Comanche, Texas, of the sum of TEN AND NO 100 ($10.00) DOLLARS, together with costs of removal, care, maintenance and return thereof. In the event the fowls impounded shall be redeemed by its owner or agent, within ten (10) days then such fowls shall be sold for such penalty, charges and costs at public sale on the public square in the City of Comanche, Texas, after the posting of the notice of the time, place of such public sale upon Bulletin Board in the City for ten (10) days consecutively. The sum of money that fowl bring in excess to the penalties, charges and costs accumulated against same, shall be paid over to the City of Comanche, Texas, upon application therefor.

SECTION 6: IMPOUNDING FEES AND COSTS

The remedy and impounding fee and cost provided in this ordinance, shall be cumulative of any and all penalties provided by ordinances of this city.

SECTION 7: ORDINANCE CUMULATIVE, ETC.

THIS ordinance shall be and is hereby declared cumulative of all other ordinances of the City of Comanche, Texas, affecting fowl and shall not operate to repeal such ordinance or ordinances, except insofar as the provisions of such other ordinance or ordinances are not consistent in conflict with provisions of this ordinance, in which case the provisions of this ordinance shall be and are hereby repealed.

SECTION 8: INVALID SECTION NOT TO INVALID OTHER SECTIONS

If any section or provision or part thereof of this ordinance, shall be adjudged invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such adjudication shall not affect the validity of this ordinance as a whole, and the section or provision thereof not adjudged invalid or unconstitutional.

SECTION 9: PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION

Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of an offense and shall be fined in any sum not less than ONE DOLLAR and not more than TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS.

SECTION 10: ORDINANCE EFFECTIVE WHEN

This ordinance shall take effect and be in full force and effect from and after the date of its publication.

SECTION 11: EMERGENCY

That fact that the existence of fowl within the City of Comanche, Texas, for commercial purposes creates odors and unhealthy conditions and adversely affects the public health and welfare of the citizens of Comanche, creates an emergency requiring that the provisions of law providing that ordinance shall be read, voted upon, passed at more than one regular meeting of the City Council, be suspended, and the same is hereby suspended, and the ordinance is finally adopted on the date of its introduction.

PASSED AND APPROVED UNANIMOUSLY on this day of December, A.D. 1966.

GYALE C. PIRKLE
Mayor of the City of Comanche, Texas
